Itinerary

B=Breakfast L=Lunch D=Dinner

Day 1:

Meals: L

We will pick you up at your hotel at 07.45 in the morning to drive to the northern town of Chiang Dao. On the way we will make a couple of interesting stops. Firstly we stop at a local market. Your guide will take you around and explain about the herbs and vegetables used in Thai cooking as well as about other local products you can find here. After that we will continue to Chiang Dao Elephant Camp. This camp will show us how elephants used to be trained in the past, how they used to work in the logging industry. After this we will continue further into the countryside where we will stop at a Karen hill tribe village.

Trekking Difficulty

Easy

Enjoy a delicious lunch before making an exciting elephant trek. It's a great experience to sit on these big creatures while they seem to effortlessly carry you around up and down the hills. After this it is time to use your own legs a bit, we will make a walk through the jungle. There are many interesting plants growing all around you. You will be amazed to hear how well the local people know these plants and what they can use them for. After this walk, we will get back into our truck and transfer to the rafting camp. While the helmsman maneuvers your raft down the stream, you have time to look around and enjoy the scenery, the sun, and the sounds of the birds. After changing into a pair of dry clothes, it's time to head back to Chiang Mai where we will arrive late in the afternoon. If you like, we can make a stop at an orchid nursery on the way back.

More trip details

Arriving and Departing: This tour starts and end in Chiang Mai.

Safety: Our tours are being executed according to the highest safety standards. Our vehicles are the best available of its kind and are properly insured. Our guides are proficient in first aid and all carry a first aid kit.

Subject to Change

Weather conditions and unforeseen circumstances might force us to change the itinerary. Character of the trip and inclusions will be the same

Weather and temperature: The temperatures during the day are quite hot throughout the year and the sun is burning mercilessly down at you. You should bring a large drinking water bottle and you must protect your skin from sunburn. During the day it is best to wear long trousers and a shirt with long sleeves. Also you should wear a hat. (Thais usually cover every part of their body with clothes if they have to remain in the sun for long.) From the end of November to the beginning of February it can become quite cold at night. Sometimes near freezing temperatures in high places. You should prepare some warm clothes if you go trekking during that time. During rainy season, from August to November, a raincoat or poncho may be appropriate. While bamboo rafting you will become a little wet. It is best to wear shorts and sandals (if you have) while rafting.

Guides: You will be led by a local English-speaking guide. Our guides have at least 10 years experience and have been guiding treks in even the most remote regions of the country. They all speak proper English and are constantly updating their knowledge. Our guides are the best in the business. Professional, knowledgeable and flexible, and that does make a difference! All our guides get regular training on environmental conservation and we actively support them in spreading the word to the local communities we cooperate with.

How to Book

Fill out our online booking form on the website to reserve your adventure. Places are limited so it is essential that you secure your place as early as possible.

Food: Meals are included as per the itinerary where B = breakfast, L = lunch, D = dinner. We serve excellent and ample food on our treks. Thai food is generally regarded as the best in the world.
